The iSquash Home Page provides a login option (for those who already have an account) or the option to Create Account. It is important to follow the instructions on the screen to ensure the correct process is followed.

If you have a username and password you can log in. If you are new to the system and have not previously played squash you will need to create an account.

NOTE: If you have played squash in the past, you may already be in the iSquash system. Please use the Forgotten Username/Password on the home page to retrieve your username and a new password. If this does not work, contact your Club Administrator, your District Administrator or Squash NZ if you think that you may already be in the system. This prevents duplicate accounts which can cause problems and delays.

All members of squash clubs (i.e. competitive on the grading list, or leisure/social players) need to have an account in iSquash.

- When you click New User on the homepage you will be taken to the “Create iSquash Account” page (see example below).
- Fill in your details as requested on the page (Note: the required fields marked in red)
